STATEMENT

Berlin-based Chilean visual artist working between painting, digital image and installation. Her work examines contemporary iconography, internet culture and collective memory through humor, appropriation and pop visual language. Drawing from architectural training, she constructs symbolic narratives that reflect identity, belonging and the contradictions of the present era.

PRACTICE

Sofiez produces paintings, digital collages, prints and moving image works that explore pop culture, political imagery and digital-era mythology. Her work uses memes and mass media symbols as contemporary folklore, translating online visual language into physical space.
